

Since I bought XM Radio for my car, it has made my 2 hour commute so much more bearable. I cant tell you the level of sanity it brings when you can listen to the traffic report right when you need it. Not 15 to 20 minutes later when your stuck in gridlock. The thought that NAB or anyone being able dictate what I can & cannot listen to, especially when Im paying for a service is absolutely ridiculous. I bought XM radio specifically because I was listening to what I thought was a very good Clear One radio station that was taken off the air because it was taking listeners away from their number one radio station KISS FM. I dont want to be subject to a dictatorship of what I can and cannot listen to depending on how financially beneficial it is to a specific radio station's executive's pocket! XM Radio caters to ME not an organization's profit margin and I pay for that service! NAB doesn't go into my living room & tell what I'm allowed to watch on cable! So why should they have a right to tell me what I can listen to when Im paying to listen to what I want! Trust me when I say I will go to any lobby, picket line, protest or demonstration to keep my rights as a consumer intact!!
